

Byron H. Long, Ph.D.

Personal and Career Information

Born in Minnesota, grew up in Ohio; married in Chicago; lived in Wisconsin, New York, Texas, Connecticut, and Pennsylvania

Ph.D. in Biochemistry from Northwestern University Medical School, Chicago, Illinois (1972)

Post-Doctoral Fellow and Research Associate, McArdle Laboratory for Cancer Research, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin (1972-1977)

Research Fellow, New York Blood Center, New York, New York (1978-1980)

Assistant Professor of Pharmacology, Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, Texas (1980-1986)

Research Fellow, Bristol Myers, Wallingford, Connecticut (1984-1992)

Senior Principal Scientist, Bristol-Myers Squibb, Princeton, New Jersey (1992-2004, retired in 2004)

Director of Oncology at Cetek Corporation, Northborough, Massachusetts (2004-2006)

Pennsylvania Resident

23 Year resident of Solebury Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania

Not-for-Profit Leadership Experience

Member and Life-Member Mid-Continent Railway Historical Society, North Freedom, Wisconsin (1972-2007)

Board of Directors Mid-Continent Railway Historical Society, North Freedom, Wisconsin (2002-2005)

Lead organization of Lake States Railway Historical Association, Middleton, Wisconsin (2006)

Member Lake States Railway Historical Association, Baraboo, Wisconsin (2006-present)

ex gratia Development Coordinator, Lake States Railway Historical Association, Baraboo, Wisconsin (2008-present)

Lead organization of Delaware Valley Fire Museum (2009)

Board of Directors, Delaware Valley Fire Museum (2009-2014)

President of Delaware Valley Fire Museum (2009-2012, 2013)